Garden Stories Cards

Host guide | A conversation, not a test

Set out a few cards

Choose three to five questions. Cut along the borders if useful, or keep each sheet whole. Everyone may answer, listen, or pass.

Begin gently

Begin by choosing a place to sit in an imaginary garden. People who do not garden can answer just as readily as experienced growers. Keep the conversation about preferences, and avoid asking anyone to identify a plant or explain why a real garden succeeded or failed.

Make room for every voice

Read one question, then pause. Accept short replies. Ask before inviting more detail. Let each person choose whether to share a memory or invent an answer.

Try this extension

Build a garden in words, with each person adding one feature: a path, a pot, a bench, a flower color, or a view. A pair can design two small spaces for different moods. This is a creative activity rather than planting advice; use imagined plants and objects when practical details would interrupt the conversation.
