World Landmarks Trivia

Answer guide 1-4 | Keep with host

1. C. Paris

The Eiffel Tower stands in Paris. Its metal structure and recognizable outline make it a useful opening landmark without requiring its exact height or construction date.

2. A. India

The Taj Mahal is in India, in Agra. Naming the country provides an accessible question while the answer note adds the more specific city location.

3. A. Rome

The Colosseum is an ancient amphitheatre in Rome. Its function differs from a temple, palace or modern sports stadium, offering a useful discussion point.

4. C. China

The Great Wall is associated with China. It comprises multiple sections and historical building phases, so it is better understood as a complex system than one simple wall.

5. A. Peru

Machu Picchu is in Peru. Its Andean mountain setting is part of its strong visual identity, even for people who have only encountered photographs.

6. B. Egypt

The Giza pyramids are in Egypt, near Cairo. Specifying Giza matters because pyramidal structures also exist in other parts of the world.

7. B. Pisa

The Leaning Tower is in Pisa. Its familiar nickname focuses on its tilt, while its original role is as the cathedral's bell tower.

8. C. Australia

The Sydney Opera House is in Australia. Its harbor setting and distinctive roof forms make it recognizable beyond audiences who have attended a performance there.

9. B. England

Stonehenge is in England, in Wiltshire. The wording distinguishes the country within the United Kingdom from the wider sovereign state used in some geography questions.

10. A. New York

The Statue of Liberty stands on Liberty Island in New York Harbor. Its precise island setting adds context without complicating the city-level answer.

11. B. Jordan

Petra is in Jordan. Its rock-cut architecture provides the identifying clue, distinguishing it from other ancient cities with different construction traditions and settings.

12. C. Athens

The famous Acropolis containing the Parthenon is in Athens. The wording identifies this particular acropolis rather than implying the term belongs to only one ancient site.
